

PROJECT: ORGANIZE YOURSELF!

“Time and self management as a key to your success”

Organize yourself! aims to develop and strengthen the time management skills of young students through their own learning process, by the use of different tools and approaches that are part of the project. Working material and information will be provided not only to the students, but also their professors and teachers, as well as other people in their family- and social-life, to give them new ideas and guide them on how to support young people managing their time.
